Dear Sirs:

We appeal the final determination to close the Greeley IA post office. We are an internet company that sells medical alert products and we mail them every day through the local Greeley post office. Because we are an internet company we use the post office a lot, purchasing all our stamps there and we do click-n-ship. But there is one thing we will not be able to do through a postal carrier if you close the post office.

The daily mail will be brought to Greeley early each day but we have Express orders that need to go out that same day. The carrier will miss the deadline so we are unable to get those express orders out the same day. We currently take the mail, including the express orders up to Greeley at about 3:30 and it goes out on the truck to Dyersville, about 20 miles away, thus meeting the deadline to get them out that day.

The carrier can't do that. Thus, we appeal the closing.
